DETAILED ACTION

1. This is in reply to application filed on October 30/2003. Claims 1-7 are pending/examined.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119 (a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reifman et al. (hereinafter referred as Reifman) (U.S. Patent No. 5, 917,615) (date of patent: 06/29/1999)

5. As per claims 1-7 Reifman discloses a peer-to-peer communication apparatus for performing one-to-one communication with another communication apparatus via an IP network, comprising:

- First means for performing an encryption process and/or an authentication process with respect to a packet; [See at least figure 20]
- Second means for acquiring, from a peer's communication apparatus specified by a user of the communication apparatus, presence information

including information for judging a communication security environment of said peer's communication apparatus and security policy information including an encryption rule and an authentication rule each to be applied to packets by said peer's communication apparatus; [column 22, lines 53-55] (The security settings display location 178 shown in the screen display of figure 17 allows the user to select options as data encryption or authentication) and

- Third means for displaying said presence information and said security policy information such that said user judges propriety of the security policy information based on the presence information and allowing the user to partly change the security policy information, said first means processing a packet to be transmitted to said peer's communication apparatus in accordance with a security policy approved by the user. [See figure 20 and column 22, lines 55-column 9] *(If the user selects the Security Settings display location 178 and presses the Change button 172, the IFAX 10 changes to the screen display shown in FIG. 20. The touch-sensitive display 24 shows which options are currently selected, and the prompt 48 instructs the user to select security options and press the OK button 158. Options that have previously been selected may be deselected by touching the corresponding button and selecting the OK button 156. The IFAX 10 permits encryption of a facsimile message by selecting an "Encryption" button 190. In addition, the IFAX 10 permits the transmission of a digital signature by selecting a "Digital Signature" button 192, and an authentication option by selecting an "Authentication" button 194. The digital signature causes the IFAX 10 to transmit a checksum or other data portion in encrypted form along with the encrypted facsimile message. The digital signature allows the receiving facsimile machine to determine if the facsimile message has been tampered with during transmission. The authentication option attaches an instruction to the facsimile message requiring a password to be entered into the recipient facsimile machine for the facsimile recipient to read the facsimile message. Thus, there are varying degrees of security that may be easily selected by the user.)

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. (See PTO-Form 892).

a. U.S. Patent No. 2005/0055572 discloses the inherent feature of IPSec in the background of the disclosure as IPSec has a number of security configuration options. For example, IPSec supports a variety of encryption algorithms, includes options regarding what part of the message is to be encrypted, and what type of authentication is to be employed. The initiator responsible for communicating with a target device must be properly configured with the appropriate IPSec security information in order for the communication to be secured as desired and interpretable by the target device. In computing systems that have multiple initiators, the initiators are typically configured without regarding for the security configuration of the other initiators in the computing system. [See for instance paragraph 0009]
